

5 WAYS TO CELEBRATE NATIONAL AVIATION DAY

FRIDAY, AUGUST 19, IS NATIONAL AVIATION DAY IN THE UNITED STATES.

In 1939, President Franklin D. Roosevelt proclaimed this day as National Aviation Day to help celebrate the development of powered aviation.

This is a day of national aviation awareness and an opportunity to promote your aviation business.

GO FLY

If you already have your certificate, what are you waiting for? Get up there!

Why this day? It was the birthday of Orville Wright.

HAVE A HANGAR PARTY

Get your friends together for good food, good music and a party in a one of a kind setting.

Think you've lost too much and forgotten everything? Afraid it'll be like starting over? No worries! Rusty Pilots will get you back in the left seat fast.

TAKE SOMEONE FLYING!

Share your love of aviation with someone else. This is the perfect day to help someone take the first step to discover the fun & freedom of flying.

VISIT AN AIR AND SPACE MUSEUM

Typically, every city has an aviation themed museum near their airport. We are partial to The Smithsonian Air and Space Museum in Washington, which will be reading "Away in My Airplane" by Margaret Wise Brown.
